

A better way to Konec

We are committed to building a website that is accessible to the broadest possible audience, regardless of ability.

Our website offers an accessibility interface that allows people with specific disabilities to adjust the display and design it to their personal needs. To use this, simply click on the blue and white widget on the bottom right of every web page.

We also utilize an AI-based application that runs behind the scenes and constantly optimizes the accessibility level. This application fixes the website's HTML (the standard language used for website creation), adapts its functionality and behaviour for screen readers and for keyboard functions.

The use of this technology means that our website adheres to Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.1 (WCAG 2.1) at AA level.

If you have any suggestions on how we could improve website accessibility, functionality or usability, send us a support request from your account or email us at: help@konec.com.au. We'd love to hear from you.
